ACTIVITY 1

A NIGHT OF SORROW

He looked at the field of ripe corn with its flowers draped in a curtain of rain. But suddenly a strong wind began to blow. Very large hailstones began to fall.

‘It’s really getting bad now!’ exclaimed Lencho. ‘I hope it passes quickly.’

It did not pass quickly. It hailed for an hour on the house, the garden, the hillside, the cornfield and the whole valley. The field was white, as if covered with salt. Not a leaf remained on the trees.

The corn was totally destroyed. The flowers had disappeared from the plants. Lencho's soul was filled with sadness. That night was a sorrowful one.

'This year we will have no corn.

There's no one to help us.

We'll all go hungry this year.'

But in the hearts of all who lived in that solitary house there was a single hope - help from God.

All through the night, Lencho thought only of his one hope - God.
